Brian,

So good, as always, to see you at church yesterday. I am just always so thankful that Mason has a man of God as his principal...and it doesn't hurt that you're my friend, too! That gift card is the least I could do after all the ways you have helped me over the years. Remember all those times after college when I called you to help me move? Ha! You deserve way more than a gift card!

Hope you have a good day, man. Let's go play some golf soon! Maybe get our wives to plan something together so that we can get in a few rounds.

Josh

Josh,

Wow, last night at the Eagle Scout ceremony...that was something. I've never been a part of that before. And to have Mason read a letter of thanks to me before he received his final badge? To say I was honored was an understatement.

Thank you for the generous gift card. You didn't have to do that. It was a very nice gesture. Please tell Jessica how much I appreciated it.

See you all soon.

Brian
